Lumen Learning Trust Gender Pay Gap Report 2022

We are an employer required by law to carry out Gender Pay Reporting under the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017.

The gender pay gap is the difference between the hourly rate of pay of male employees and female employees (as set out in the regulations), expressed as a percentage of the hourly pay rate of the male employees. The gender pay gap is reported on both a mean (average) and median (mid-point on a distribution) basis.

We are required to publish the results on our own website and a government website.

We use these results to assess:

- the levels of gender equality in our workplace
- the balance of male and female employees at different levels
- how effectively talent is being maximised and rewarded.

The data below shows the gender pay gap that exists within Lumen Learning Trust, based on the hourly rates of pay for all employees and workers as of 31 March 2021 and bonuses paid in the 12 months to 31 March 2021.

SUPPORTING NARRATIVE

The findings show that the mean hourly rate for female employees was 15.5% lower than male employees which is broadly in line with the 15.4% average gender pay gap reported by the Office for National Statistics in October 2021.

The Lumen Learning Trust always recruit the best person for the job regardless of their gender. We ensure that our job roles are evaluated to ensure fair pay in each role and advertise each job with no gender bias.

We follow National and Surrey pay guidelines for both teaching and support roles. Staff move through the pay scales for their grade based on a thorough and robust performance management process which means earnings are determined by performance outcomes, irrespective of gender.
